Description:

From the Back Cover This book, considered a classic of Christian devotional literature, collects the inspirational sermons of an influential 19th-century preacher and missionary on the challenging matter of how devoted Christians should properly surrender to God.

In clear, easy-to-understand language, this 1895 work discusses:

- * how the fruit of the Spirit is love
- * how what is impossible with man is possible with God
- * how believers are kept by the power of God
- * and more.

Seekers after spiritual succor continue to find soulful sustenance and encouragement in this work more than a century after it was first published. --This text refers to an alternate edition.

About the Author Andrew Murray was born in South Africa in 1828. After receiving his education in Scotland and Holland, he returned to South Africa and spent many years there as both a pastor and missionary. He wrote over two hundred books, including some of the most enduring classics of Christian literature. He and his wife, Emma, raised eight children, and it is said that their home was an endless stream of activity.
