Description:

About the Author

Scott Good lives in Columbus, Ohio with his wife, four children, and two, mostly unmanageable dogs.

He is the President of two companies: Teamwork Solutions, an internationally-known software development firm; and GOODAero, a provider of professional-quality aerodynamic products to amateur racers.

He is a two-time National Champion road racer; the National Director of NASA's German Touring Series; and has published more than 70 articles on subjects ranging from software development to automobile racing techniques.

LOSS OF CONTROL draws from Scott's multiple decades of both automobile racing and software development experience to paint a vivid picture of the people and events that comprise both one of the world's most popular sports, and the day-to-day world of technology companies.

Along the way, it tells a compelling story filled with interesting but conflicted characters as they move through a palette rich with color, emotion, and detail.
